Let's let our light shine by giving this Christmas Season!

'Tis the season to give!

This year Seton Pre-School in cooperation with Nazareth College is sponsoring a Service Project to help spread Christmas joy to the boys and girls at Golisano Children's Hospital.

Peter Smith, son of Mrs. Renee Smith, our wonderful 3 year old pre-school teacher, is a senior majoring in Musical Theatre in the Theatre and Dance Department at Nazareth College. He is currently the stage manager for the student showcase: A Charlie Brown Christmas to be performed this Christmas season. Our preschool children will be attending the final dress rehearsal of this show at the end of November.

In honor of our connection to the stage manager of this show, we, Seton Preschool, will be sponsoring this service project to be held in collaboration with Nazareth College's Theater and Dance Department to benefit the children at Golisano Children's Hospital. We would like to invite all members of the Seton Community to help us make the lives of the children at Golisano a little brighter this Christmas by bringing in a new, unwrapped toy to be donated to the hospital when we attend the performance at the end of November.

Golisano helps approximately 115 children every day of the year so our goal is to give every child who has to be there on Christmas a present from their Seton friends.
